BIG ARTISTS SHRINE CLUB HIGH JINKS

Al Malakia Shrine Band of Seventy-five Will Play Here

VERY FINE PROGRAM

James W. Foley and F. W. Kellogg Will Make Addresses

Plans are being completed for one of the biggest affairs in Glendale since the Shrine club of Glendale was organized less than two months ago. It is the monthly meeting and entertainment of that organization, to be held the night of February 1, from 7:30 o'clock to the "wee sma' hours."

The Shrine club will entertain the band and patrol of Al Malakia Temple, Los Angeles, in addition to Potentate Louis M. Cole and his divan. The Al Malakia Shrine band is composed of 75 men, numbering among its talent some best musicians in Southern California. The Los Angeles guests will also bring their celebrated Chanters of 50 singers.

One of the features of the evening will be an address by James W. Foley, editorial writer for the Pasadena Evening Post. F. W. Kellogg of the Los Angeles Evening Express will also give a brief address.

Several singers and dancers from big-time eastern vaudeville circuits, who are wintering in Los Angeles, have also been engaged for the evening. After the program is completed a luncheon will be served, and the remainder of the evening will be devoted to smokes and a get-together.

HENRY A. MICHEL TO VISIT HOLLAND

Well Known Builder to Take Family on Journey to Old Home

Henry A. Michel, who has figured so largely in the tremendous building program that has been carried out in Glendale, will leave with his wife and two children for Holland the first of March, to be gone six months. It is 17 years since he last saw the land of his nativity, and he is anxious to again see his parents and friends there. He also promises to visit the "ex-Kaiser Bill" and bring back first-hand information in regard to that fallen monarch.

A Buick sedan which he has just purchased will be delivered to him in the east on his return from across the pond, and in it he and his family will make the return trip to California, as they wish a chance to see America in a leisurely manner.

For 12 years Mr. Michel has been a resident of Glendale and during that time has built 200 houses, most of them his own for investment. During the last three months he has constructed 14 high-class houses on West Wilson, all of which have been sold except one, the majority finding purchasers before they were completed.

HUSBAND STABS WIFE'S PHYSICIAN

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Howard Willis was held today on charges of attempting to kill Dr. M. H. Fash, after Mrs. Willis had "confessed" she had broken her marriage vows, naming the physician. She claimed she had been "hypnotized" by Fash. The physician was only slightly wounded by the knife stab wounds inflicted by Willis.

Mrs. Willis, the mother of a 11-months-old baby, told police that Dr. Fash had attended her for more than a year. Gradually, Mrs. Willis declared, she fell under the influence of the physician. After worrying a great deal, Mrs. Willis finally confessed to her husband. Willis went to the doctor's office and stabbed him. Dr. Fash denied the accusation.

WHITE HOUSE DENIES LONDON POST REPORT

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Official circles today discussed a story, credited to the Morning Post of London, to the effect that President Harding had twice refused to receive Ambassador Jusserand in an audience. The foreign office here declares it has no knowledge of the alleged incident.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The White House today denied reports printed in London that President Harding had twice refused the request of Jules J. Jusserand, French ambassador, for an audience.

Swooping Airplane Creates an Incident That Is Really New

Because an airplane swooping down close to the ground over a California pasture strikes and kills a horse, Henry James in commenting upon the incident says that after all there is something new under the sun. "And with the dawning of mortal intelligence," says Mr. James in his interesting column on the editorial page, "came the beginning of all possibilities of achievement. There Mr. James expresses a thought characteristic of the high standard he has set in his writings.

You will find that Mr. James' column is like the visit of a candid friend each evening. It is worth reading.

James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" tonight says that about the finest thing that can be said of a man is that he is "square." And, using this word as a text, Mr. Foley has written a bit of philosophy that is appealing and to the point.

Dr. Frank Crane writes on "Privacy and Neighborliness."

Other features, able editorials, poetry, wise sayings and all the other departments of this newspaper are offered for your pleasure and profit. Take advantage of them.

CURFEW LAW IS DRAWING TIGHT

Chief Martin Gets Ages of Children from School

The last chance of children telling an untruth about their age has faded. Chief of Police Martin took the matter up with Prof. George U. Moyse of the Glendale high school, who has supplied the police department with a list of all the students in high school and their ages.

In the past, when minors were taken into headquarters for violating the curfew ordinance, they told the officers they were 19 years old. It was impossible for the police to prove they were under the age prescribed in the ordinance. With the assistance of the list supplied by Prof. Moyse the police department can tell the age of every child in Glendale. There will be no chance of evading the facts as supplied from the high school.

DEBATERS IN NEW VICTORY FOR SCHOOL

Isabel Tousey and Dale Wood Take Prize at Long Beach

VERY CLOSE SCORE

High Boy and Girl Get Every Negative Argument Easily

Dale Wood and Isabel Tousey, who represented Glendale high in the league debate with Long Beach high, which took place in the beach city Friday evening, brought back the honors of the contest in a very close score.

The Long Beach team was a strong one and brought up many points difficult to answer, but the Glendale champions succeeded in refuting them and were granted the larger score by the judges, who ruled with care and impartiality.

A good crowd of fans for the Glendale representatives accompanied them and brought them back in triumph. The question debated was: "Resolved, That Extra Territoriality in China Be Abolished," the Glendale debaters having the affirmative side.

SENATOR REED IS WRATHY BECAUSE OF NEWBERRY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—"In all the annals of tll legislative bodies in the history of the world, there was never such an infamous and dishonorable act as the seating of Senator Newberry," Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, declared today in an attack on the senate's action.

"It was the most stupid piece of business that ever disgraced any body of sane men," Reed told the senate.

"Our Republican majority says $125,000 is too much money for a political candidate to spend in an honest campaign, therefore we seat him.' They said 'we condemn him as being dishonest, therefore we sanction him. We know it was injurious to the state and a blot on the purity of the republic, therefore we seat him.'

"'Republicans, you should put on your campaign books your motto: 'This is an example of the Republican conscience in the year 1922.'"

Reed launched into his attack during the discussion of the foreign debt bill. He pointed to the Newberry case as an "example that the Republican majority in the senate has no conscience to weigh a question honorably."

GROUP AGAINST SALES TAX PLAN

Independents Will Attempt to Prevent New Bonus Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. — A powerful group was organizing in the house today to fight the sales tax as a means of raising money to pay the soldier bonus. The same coalition of Republican "independents" and Democrats that overthrew President Harding on the sur-tax amendment was being re-formed to defeat the sales tax. The determined opposition against the sales tax has broken out suddenly in both houses.

Representative Frear, Wisconsin, leading the Republican opposition, declared today that between 75 and 100 Republicans already have announced they will join the fight. These include the farm bloc members in the house, who are solidly arrayed against the sales tax.

The ways and means committee has virtually decided upon the tax bill, it was learned, and if that is voted down a long delay, while the committee works out another method of financing the bonus, will be inevitable.

BANDITS SUCCEED

DENVER, Jan. 28.—Bandits entered the bank at Agate, Colo., a small village 70 miles east of here, some time last night and escaped with loot, the amount of which has not yet been determined, according to reports to Denver police today.

BOOST

Boost your city, boost your friend,
Boost the lodge that you attend,
Boost the street on which you're dwelling,
Boost the goods that you are selling.
Boost the people round about you,
They can get along without you,
But success will quicker find them
If they know that you're behind them.

Boost for every forward movement,
Boost for every new improvement,
Boost the man for whom you labor,
Boost the stranger and the neighbor.
Cease to be a chronic knocker,
Cease to be a progress blocker.
If you'd make your city better,
Boost it to the final letter.

CARDINALS HAVE HIT DEADLOCK

Compromise Candidate Believed Be Named Next Week

ROME, Jan. 28.—A compromise candidate will be the next supreme Pontiff of the Catholic church, it was believed here today. Italian cardinals, who will probably be in the majority, have divided irreconciliably into two groups, neither of which can secure the necessary two-thirds majority at the moment.

The two well defined groups—the intransigeants, who would elect Merry Del Val, opposed to reconciliation with Italy, and the group favoring Gasparri, cardinal camerlengo, which would effect closer relations with the government—were apparently evenly balanied today, with each seeking to gain strength before the test comes with the beginning of the conclave on Thursday.

Cardinal Gasparri has told his intimate acquaintances that if elected he will take the name of "Pope Leo XIV," according to the Popolo Romano. Charges that the Jesuits were seeking to control the papal elections were indignantly denied by Father Ledochowski, head of that order, known as the "Black Hope," today.

The Merry Del Val group has suggested that Cardinal Gasparri, acting in his capacity as cardinal camerlengo, temporary holder of the papal authority, exceeded his powers when he notified Premier Bonomi of the death of Benedict. If unable to elect Merry Del Val, the intransigeant group was expected to throw its support to Cardinal Laurenti, who would also oppose reconciliation with the state.

ESCAPED FROM A SANITARIUM HERE

Dr. R. J. Esnard, Dentist, Is Found Thinly Clad Here Friday

Early Friday morning the police department was notified that there was a man in Sycamore Canyon apparently mentally deranged. The police were asked to call for him and see that he was taken care of. It was found that he was Dr. R. J. Esnard of Los Angeles and that he had escaped from a rest home in the vicinity of Glendale.

His wife was notified and called for him Friday afternoon.

Dr. Esnard, who is a dentist, suffered a nervous breakdown several weeks ago caused by overwork. This affected his mind and he was taken to a rest home to recuperate. Dr. Esnard said that he had escaped from the home because they had neglected him. When he was found by the police he had only one sock, a pair of slippers and was thinly clad.

MAN KILLED IN BANDIT BATTLE

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 28.—Harvey Gray, 50, was murdered at the wheel of his automobile in a desperate battle with holdups here today. Gray's body, stiffened and cold in death, was found in the driver's seat of his car at Twenty-first street and Central avenue this morning. The dead man had a bullet hole in the left side of his head. The windshield of his machine was punctured with three more bullet holes. Gray's right hand clutched an automatic revolver, which he had been firing when a bullet ended his own life.

NEW BIDS SAVED CITIZEN'S FORTUNE

At the last meeting of the city council bids for the improvement of Doran, Lexington, Howard, and Geneva streets were rejected on motion of Councilman Davis who said that the bids were too high. The council advertised for new bids which were opened this morning. They disclose the fact that the motion of Councilman Davis saved the city approximately $14,000.

GIRLS DENY THEY RETARD ATHLETES

Northwestern Men Have Been Meeting Defeat Often

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Charges that "too much la femme" is responsible for the poor showing of the Northwestern university's athletic teams were met on the campus today with indignant stamping of hundreds of pairs of diminutive goloshes.

"We don't hurt the athletes, we inspire them," said pretty Miss Margaret Duthie, in refutation of the charges made by the university paper.

A bevy of the "righteously indignant girls" held a meeting and adopted resolutions not to accept dates from any man who did not try out for a place in some brand of athletics.

"A smile on the face of his best girl standing in the bleachers has inspired many a man to achievement in football games," said Miss Duthie.

"The best football teams in the world come from co-educational schools. Blame for Northwestern's athletic failure should be laid at the door of the men who refuse to try out for the teams."

Miss Duthie admitted that Northwestern "has its share of tea hounds and cake eaters," but denied that it was the fault of the co-eds. "The 'tower of muscle' type of athlete is our choice every time," she said.

Purdue university wrestlers defeated Northwestern mat men 32 to 24 here last night, adding to a long list of Purple defeats.

TAKING CHECK OF P. E. PASSENGERS

Figures Will Be Given to Council at Thursday Meeting

Police officers are today making a check on the Pacific Electric street cars in Glendale in order to estimate the number of passengers carried during one day. The figures will be turned over to the city council at their meeting Thursday night to be used in estimating the requirements of the municipal bus line tha is rapidly growing from a tentative suggestion to a reality.

It is understood that negotiations have already been entered into with a transportation expert who will in all probability head the transportation department of the city when the line starts operation.

William Hutchinson is assisting the police department in making a check on the passengers hauled. He volunteered his services to the police department and is stationed at the car stop at Brand boulevard and San Fernando road.

$2000 FUND FOR SCOUTS SUBSCRIBED

Organizations at Scout Council Banquet Respond

VERY FINE PROGRAM

Glendale Leaders Hear Inspiring Talks on Boy Scouts

A good dinner and a good program rewarded the patrons of the Boy Scout banquet at the chamber of commerce Friday night, and in turn the diners rewarded the host organization to the extent of about $2000 in subscriptions to the boy scout fund. Besides the definite pledges representatives of several organizations stated the matter would be brought before their associations which would doubtless respond with subscriptions.

Wires were strung above each table on which were hung paper pennants bearing the names of the organizations for which reservations had been made, and these fluttering banners were quite a revelation of the extent to which organization has been carried in Glendale.

While the dinner was in progress jazz music was played by the Bode-Henning orchestra. When the last course had been cleared away, Charles L. Chandler, president of the Boy Scout council, called the assembly to order and Rev. E. E. Ford invoked the divine blessing.

Mayor Robinson then responded to call and sang "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," Harry Girard playing his accompaniment, the two men carrying on a pretended quarrel. Vocal numbers by Harry Girard followed, an Irish song 300 years old which was stirring and dramatic, and an old Scotch song.

Mr. Chandler explained the conversion of the scout organization from a second class to a first class council with Howard Benner as scout executive. He then introduced Stuart W. French, member of the twelfth original committee of the Boy Scouts of America and president of the Pasadena scout council.

Mr. French explained the wide spread distribution of boy scout activities and told of scout work he had seen among the Moslems in Egypt and in other parts of the Orient. He showed how applicable the scout oath is there as well as in America and how universal is its appeal. He commented on the thorough democracy of the scout movement, how it grips the boy element in the man, saying: "When you meet the little fellow on the street and he slips his finger into your hand and gives you the scout grip, you feel repaid for everything you have done."

A skit in demonstration of the emergency work of boy scouts in rendering first aid was given by Benjamin Robinson, Jr., assistant Scout Master of Troop 2, and six

SECRET CONCLAVE ELECT NEW POPE ON FEBRUARY 2

Believed Italian Will Be Elected by Very Small Margin

ROME, Jan. 28.—The secret conclave which will elect a successor to Pope Benedict XV will be Italian by a small majority, according to indications today. Twenty-six foreign cardinals and 28 Italians are expected to be ready for the election February 2.

The 54 cardinals expected to be here when the walling up ceremony takes place, will be closed within the apartments on the first three floors of the Vatican early next Thursday. A vote will be taken the same day, but the cardinals will not be able to leave the Vatican until a decision is reached. A two-thirds majority is required to elect a new Pope. Predictions as to Benedict's successor narrowed today to Cardinals Gasparri, Ratti, Merry Del Val, Mercier and La-Fontaine.

Each cardinal will take with him into the Vatican before the walls and doors are sealed, one priest and one servant. In addition there will be walled up a number of masters of ceremonies whose duty it is to summon the cardinals to the various masses and sessions for voting, also two persons, one pharmacist who must be a member of the religious order of San Giovanni de Rio, barbers, cooks, and a few workmen.

LEGION MAY HAVE RECREATION HOME

Post Meeting Last Night Attended by Large Number

First Vice Commander Chalmer Day occupied the chair last night at the meeting of Glendale post No. 127, American Legion, as Commander James McBryde has been in San Bernardino and Riverside for the past week on business.

The first business on the program was the initiation of eight candidates, after which several musical numbers were given. Messrs. Smith and Miller played several Hawaiian selections and they were followed by Messrs. Moniot and Miller, who played the banjo and guitar. The new members were introduced to the post and in turn made a few remarks.

Captain Thomas D. Watson chairman of the sick and relief committee, made a report of work done by his committee which was very satisfactory.

The proposition of weekly boxing bouts was discussed. A promoter from Los Angeles asked permission to give a boxing exhibition here under the auspices of the Legion post but the plan was not accepted.

The athletic committee reported that it is planning to organize a basketball team to take part in the games being played among the various Legion posts of this district. Several challenges have been received by the Glendale post.

A proposition for the erection of a Legion home, with sufficient space for lounging and reading rooms, was discussed, but as the matter was only a thought, no action was taken. Captain Watson reported that $40 were turned in to him as additional proceeds of the recent banquet.

GLENDALE IS SCENE OF BIG TRAIN HOLDUP

Red Lambertson, I. W. W. Leader Is Fatally Wounded

DEATH IS EXPECTED

Now in Los Angeles in Dying Condition Late Report

Walter E. (Red) Lambertson, alleged I. W. W., is dying with five bullet wounds in his body, sustained late last night when he attempted to hold up and rob the Southern Pacific's Shore Line limited a half mile east of Glendale.

Lambertson was shot by railroad detectives after he had stopped the train by placing an obstruction across the tracks. The detectives were awaiting him in ambush, having been tipped off in advance as to his plans.

Newspapers said the Shore Line limited carried $300,000. The railroad company, however, refused to confirm the assertion.

Lambertson is a former railroad man. He was yardmaster at Joliet, Ill. He was discharged by the Southern Pacific for his activities during the outlaw switchman's strike last spring. Federal officials have him listed as one of the prime movers in Seattle's general strike.

PICKFORD CASE ON ITS LAST LEGS

Lawyers to Do Battle in Carson City on Monday Next

CARSON CITY, Nev., Jan. 28.—Decks were being cleared here today for another battle over Mary Pickford's divorce from Owen Moore. On Monday, attorneys for Miss Pickford, who is now the wife of Douglas Fairbanks, and for the state of Nevada, will argue in the supreme court in a final effort to determine whether the state's suit to annul "Little Mary's" divorce, granted her nearly two years ago, will go to trial.

The case will be before the supreme court on appeal from a decision of the lower courts, holding that Mary's divorce, now that it is granted, is perfectly O. K., and the state has no right to attack it.

Attorney General Fowler, who instituted the suit on the state's behalf, holds that justice miscarried; that the dignity of the state was flaunted and that the good name of Nevada was besmirched by allegedly "fraudulent methods" which he claims Mary followed in securing her freedom from her first husband. Mary's divorce, nearly two years ago, was a month's sensation. In the disguise of a "poor little rich girl," she went with her mother to Minden, Nev., an unheard of village near Carson City, bought a home, and sued for divorce.

Owen Moore was found, according to allegations made in the state's suit against Mary, playing cards in the village hotel. The defense claims he "happened" to be there. Divorce papers were served, the divorce granted, and within ten days Mary was back in Los Angeles and within a month was Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks.

The state contends it was by "collusion" and not by "coincidence" that Moore "happened" to be playing poker with the Minden cowboys the day Mary decided she didn't want him any longer for a legal husband.

The Barton Bedtime Stories

WHAT IT'S LIKE TO BE FOLKS.

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

"Yah! yah!" the red dog laughed out loud. He was almost breathless from dancing and barking and loving Louie Thomson. "I'm not a stray any more. I'm a real dog with a real master and a real name. I'm Louie Thomson's Pal. How does that suit you?"

"It sounds all right to me," barked Tommy Peele's good old dog, Watch. "No, don't you nudge me away from Louie, you silly beast. I'm nobody to be jealous of. I just want to tell him how glad I am that he has you."

"Can I keep him this time?" Louie was asking Tommy. "Your dad won't make me give him back to that man again?"

"I don't see how he can," grinned Tommy. "He doesn't know where that hunter lives, you know. So how can he tell him the red dog's here? Looks like that fellow'd rather lose his dog than let my dad find him here. So I guess Pal's yours."

Now all this happened down at Dr. Muskrat's pond. Malty Kitten's calling couldn't wake the old doctor, but all the racket surely brought him out in double-quick time.

"Hello!" barked Watch. "The red dog's fortune has come true, just as the stars said. He's Louie's Pal now. And he wants to make a Compact with the woods-folk right away quick." (You notice nobody was calling the red dog "you" or "it" any more).

Now you remember about Compacts The one who wants to make one promises to obey the Laws of the Woods and Fields. Then he offers the woodsfolk a present (something to eat, of course, because a perfectly valueless thing like a pebble or a leaf would never do). When they accept it that's a sign they accept him for a friend.

"Dear me," he smiled, "Aren't Louie and Tommy woodsfolk, just like the rest of us?"

Now Watch had explained about this to Pal. And the dear red dog was scratching an ear to think what he should offer. But the wise paddle-paw saved him the trouble.

"Dear me," he smiled. "Aren't Louie and Tommy woodsfolk, just like the rest of us? And didn't he give Louie the widow squirrel? Seems to me some folks think squirrels are good to eat. And aren't we all very, very grateful because she wasn't the least bit hurt? He's had a Compact with us ever since that time."

The red dog was so choked up over this he lost his bark and could only whine. And, of course, Louie thought that meant something else. "Come home," said he. "You must be most starved, you poor old pup." But Pal wasn't a "poor" anything. He was woodsfolk and housefolk both; there was nothing more he could have dreamed of wanting.

GOOD DUCKING DOWN IN TEXAS

LUBBOCK, Texas, Jan. 28.—If a duck occupies two square feet of space, how many ducks will it take to completely hide the water in a lake three hundred yards wide by nine hundred and fifty yards long?

On one morning's drive twenty lakes can be found in the South Plains section around this town that will have from 1,000 to 18,000 ducks upon it. When these flocks leave the water, they drench you as with a heavy summer shower with the water that falls rfom their feathers and make a roar that can heard a half mile.

Geese, the great white-breasted ones that stand up 40 to 45 inches and look like a flock of sheep crossing a field, can be turned best with a long range rifle. One good fat goose provides meat for a party of ten.

Corson, superintendent of schools, rule that high school girls' knees shall not be nude.

The Most Powerful Spark Plug

Vacuum Transformer Chamber

You are, no doubt, familiar with the perfect blue fire in the recently developed powerful electric light bulb. The same vacuum chamber principle, which makes the new high grade special duty bulb so much more intense and powerful, is embodied in the Lynamite Plug. The Lynamite principle embodied in this plug produces a strong blue-white spark, ten times more intense than the ordinary faint red spark. It is a big, quick-acting, blue flash, that strikes across the firing points, adding more power to every piston stroke.

WATCH THE ACTION

A trial of Lydon Lynamite Plugs will quickly demonstrate this principle. Connect them up, and watch what happens. Here's what you'll get:

More Mileage
More Power
More Speed
Less Carbon
Less Expense
Less Heat

LOS FELIZ BRIDGE OPENED FRIDAY, FOR TRAFFIC

Officials of Auto Club Work With L. A. City Officials

The opening of the Los Feliz road bridge over the Los Angeles river was consummated at noon Friday. Officials of the Automobile club have been working in conjunction with the Los Angeles road department looking toward the early opening of the bridge.

The Automobile club has taken up with the proper authorities the matter of having the roadway of the Ivanhoe bridge given a coating of rock screenings and asphaltic oil, this being to eliminate the slippery surface of this stretch whenever it becomes wet. Also, the matter of painting the guard rails of this bridge white, so that they may be plainly seen by motorists at night, is also being pushed by the Auto club. It is generally acknowledged that this bridge is altogether too narrow, and in order that it may be made as safe as possible the Auto club officials are endeavoring to bring these improvements about.

Club representatives also stated that the mechanical work necessary for the gates on Grand boulevard at the point where it is crossed by the Southern Pacific tracks, is in place. All that is necessary for these gates to be put in working order is the hanging of the arms, which, it is expected, will be done within a few days.

Club representatives have also decided to take up with the proper authorities the matter of providing an automobile crossing over the Pacific Electric tracks on either the north or the south side of the Southern Pacific tracks. This, it is argued, would relieve the congestion caused by automobiles traveling north along Brand crossing to the right side of the road at San Fernando road.

EASY MONEY WAY WILL BE REBUFFED

Motorists attempting to secure "easy money" by filing fraudulent insurance claims are going to run up against a very long arm of the law, according to officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

An emphatic but kindly warning to all car owners has just been issued by the insurance department of the club, which also applies to all insurance companies of the state, that there is no use trying to get away with false claims on insurance because scores of detectives are to be employed in tracing such claims in the future.

With the arrest of Robert Mandell at the headquarters of the Auto Club in Los Angeles a case will be prosecuted which points out the seriousness of such an offense. In this case it is claimed that Mandell attempted to secure the cash equivalent of a nearly new tire by hiding an old tire, saying it was stolen.

The penalty in a case of this kind, it is pointed out by the legal department, is a fine of $1,000, or three years in the penitentiary. The slightest false claim may have most serious consequences.

Motorists planning to file claims for losses should stick to the utter truth, according to the advice just issued. Every circumstance governing the filing of the claim, and the details from which it arises will always be investigated thoroughly and no loop-hole left open for securing "easy money" by false statements.

Any car owner who thinks he can drive his car into the Mohave desert or elsewhere, burn it up, then get the insurance money for it will find this an impossibility. The same will hold true for the motorist who thinks he can "arrange" to have his car stolen by a friend and then get the theft insurance, because he needs cash, will run smack up against the law.

SENSATIONAL CUT IN FORDSON IS ANNOUNCED

Ford Says He Is a Farmer and Wants to Help Cut Costs

DETROIT, Jan. 27.—Announcement was made today at the Ford motor works that the price of the Fordson tractor had been reduced to $395. This is a cut of $230. Announcement of the reduction was made by Ford in a wireless statement broadcasted to farmers of the country from the Northville station here.

"I have been a farmer all my life," Ford said, "and now I am doing everything possible to cut the cost of farming. I think it will help the country to make farm machinery cheaper as spring is coming on.

"Production costs of farm products are still too close to selling prices to allow a fair margin of profit," Ford stated.

GOODRICH TIRES AT BDWY. GARAGE

"We have just put in a complete line of Goodrich tires and tubes," said Mr. Shaver of the Broadway garage, 721 East Broadway, "and we are in a position to take the best of care of Goodrich tire users in Glendale and the surrounding territory. We carry this tire in all sizes. We know the tire business and we want to prove this fact to the motorists of Glendale."

This company also does washing, greasing and polishing and it carries a full line of accessories at all times, as well as gasoline and oil. General automobile repairing is also taken care of in the very best possible manner.

A battery and electrical supply service will soon be installed by this firm. Car storage is one of the features of this company's business. The members of this firm are W. W. Shaver, J. R. Winter and T. R. Wilson.

IN NEW HOME ON SO. BRAND BLVD.

Now that its building has been completed the firm of McGrath & Hunter, 312 South Brand boulevard, declares that it is now taking care of the automobile public better than it has ever done.

During the reconstruction of its building this firm installed a number of labor-saving devices that make it possible to do better work in less time, this meaning a saving to the customer and better satisfaction all around. This company is one firm in Glendale that conducts a 24-hour auto service. Day or night this firm will take care of anything along the automobile line.

HEISER TELLS OF JOURNEY IN OLDS

F. F. Heiser, manager of the Independent Lumber company, corner of San Fernando road and Doran street, in speaking of his trip across country from Minneapolis, Minn., in his model 47 Oldsmobile sedan, states that while he encountered some very severe roads through the bad lands of North Dakota and his climb over the Rocky Mountains by way of the Yellowstone National Park, and on to Seattle, Portland and San Francisco, covering better than 5000 miles before arriving in Glendale, that all the trouble he experienced with his car was three tire changes that were due to punctures.

This performance is not unusual for the Oldsmobile and is only a repetition of the severe tests that this car has been put to. In giving out this information Mr. Heiser was reluctant in making any remarks for publication and emphasized that he was not seeking any publicity but felt in justice to J. C. Pollock & Co., distributors for the Oldsmobile car in Glendale, tha the public should know the wonderful performance of his car.

VELIE MOTORS TO MOVE FEB. 1ST

The Velie Glendale Motors will move on February 1st from its present location to 233 South Brand boulevard. Mr. C. A. Wishart, owner of the Westinghouse Battery Service building, will erect a building on the rear of his lot for the Velie company, this new structure to have a storage space for 18 cars.

The Velie company will use the lot adjoining the Wishart property on the north for display purposes.

NEW MAXWELL WILL BE SHOWN HERE FEBRUARY 1ST

Glendale Motor Car Co., With L. P. Clark as Agency Head

Lyman P. Clark, who has for many years been associated with the sale of Maxwell cars in Southern California, and at the present, wholesale manager for the Union Motors Inc., will take the Maxwell agency for Glendale and San Fernando valley on February 1st.

Associated with Mr. Clark is Frederic W. Procter, formerly of the Grace Motor Car Co., Maxwell dealers in Pasadena. Mr. Procter was also connected with the Maxwell organization in the East. The new firm will do business under the name of the Glendale Motor Car Co., with temporary location at 246 South Brand Blvd., until their new building is completed. They will carry a full line of all models of Maxwell cars on display as well as a complete stock of parts for the new series, as well as old models, and their service department will have every facility for Maxwell owners.

Mr. Clark has a host of friends in Glendale who will be pleased to know that he is also going to take up his residence here in the very near future.

The Glendale Motor Car Co. is fortunate in obtaining the Maxwell line at this time when the Maxwell is having such wonderful sales all over the country. The New Maxwell has proved to be the biggest sensation in the automobile world for years, Mr. Clark declares.

Desirable furnished rooms may be advertised WITH QUICK RESULTS! For they are in demand.

What's Wrong Now? Starter Seems O. K.—But—

"I've cranked that engine and c-r-a-n-k-e-d it. I've primed the cylinder—and I've over-primed it. Then I cranked some more and still the blankety-blank thing won't start!

"Oh, well—only one thing left to do, but THIS time it will work. I'll call up the STANDARD GARAGE. They'll have a regular mechanic here in a jiffy and my motoring troubles will be over."

A SONG ON MILO WHEAT by T. W. McConnell

You ask me, friends; why really, now,
I haven't much to say;
But I am sure that Milo Wheat
Is for the best today.
Now, some things let me speak about
That you may plainly see
When folks once taste of MILO WHEAT
You'll need no other plea.
For folks who eat this food,
I'm sure you will hear say:
"For strength, health and every ill.
It's best, we know today;
We're living now on MILO WHEAT,
Our bank account will grow,
For we can have a good square meal
For three cents now, you know.
You know our days are perilous times
When all will have a test,
And they will surely want to eat
The cheapest and the best.
It will not be so very long
Till you will hear the call
For MILO WHEAT from every class,
Both rich, poor, large and small.

Truths in Epigram

Waste not fresh tears over old griefs. — Euripides (484 - 406 (B. C.).

Nothing is there more friendly to a man than a friend in need.—Plautus (245 (?)-184 B. C.).

Doubt is brother-devil to Despair.—O'Reilly (1844-1890).

The cruelest lies are often told in silence.—Stevenson (1850-1894).

UNSETTLED QUESTIONS

When a woman borrows a dozen eggs, the eggs commanding 40 cents in the market, is the debt adequately repaid by means of another dozen, the price having fallen to 25 cents?

This is a question long and earnestly debated, without, so far as known, the reaching of a satisfactory answer. Precisely the principle involved has come up in the courts of England. It has been answered, but whether to the pleasing of all concerned, does not appear.

In 1914 a British concern borrowed 750,000 rubles from a Russian bank. The rubles were then worth $300,000. Now the borrower desires to pay the loan, but insists that it is obligated to pay, not the sum demanded in sterling, but merely 750,000 rubles, representing a present value of $250.

Thus if a ruble is a ruble under all circumstances, the old query touching the eggs may be regarded as settled.

It is not to be assumed, however, that the Russians will consider that their claim has been met, nor that the party of the other part is able to view the transaction with clear conscience. This opens anew the old problem of the eggs.

If a matter is not to be considered settled until rightly settled, the finish of this one is still in the future. Nothing a judge could say would have power to permit a borrower of $900,000 to pay it with $250, and be entitled to a receipt in full.

ACTING LIKE LORDS

Somebody in Los Angeles complains that the crossing policemen of that city act like lords. Evidently this is intended as an aspersion. It will be considered as coming from a disgruntled driver who has been instructed, brusquely perhaps, that he must obey the law.

Just how a lord would act in the circumstances is a little hard to determine. Were he the typical lord of the stage, with monocle and all, he certainly would cut a queer figure. It is feared that between two streams of haste-mad lunatics, nine out of ten of them bent on some hoggish violation of the rights of all the rest, and of the multitude on foot, his lordship might even get rattled, and ultimately succumb to the impact of a flivver.

If the man who complains, means that the crossing policeman ordered him to stop, or to slacken speed; even if he means that the copper told him not to get gay or he'd get taken in, still will the sympathy of the pedestrian remain with the policeman. More power to his arm. and a longer reach!

Anybody who declares that the crossing policeman acts like a lord, is merely making known the fact that the policeman is attending to business; that in so attending he has discommoded, called down, or arrested a driver who needed all these methods of treatment and then some.

CALLING BACK ITS BRAINS

Soviet Russia is seeking to call back the men of brains and character expelled from that country by the early acts of bolshevism. Lenine knew that with such men in Russia his plans of domination could not be carried out. His judgment told him that Russia could not be the center of a plot against civilization if it could not get rid of its intellectuals. So they were starved into flight, unless other brutalities and privations killed them.

What Lenine did not know was that a government could not be maintained in the absence of men of high mental capacity. The ignorance he gathered about him could wage a campaign of destruction. This he had in mind. He failed to see far enough to realize that when the destruction had progressed to absolute ruin, and just ahead would be the prospect of chaos, that the same forces that had torn down, must lack the genius to take the fragments, and out of them build anew.

Lenine has reached close to the limit of his potency to efface the wealth of Russia. He has made of the country an industrial wreck; a social tragedy. The task of devastation has lost its charm. There is little left upon which to vent the fury of his hatred. The vision of an ideal state devoid of morals and mentality, has faded. He sees now that something must be done, that he and his verminous following are not capable of doing. So he calls for the exiles to return.

Were they to go back in sufficient numbers to root out Lenine and his wicked and brutal theories, there might be hope for Russia yet.

STICKING TO A NAME

Elsie Hill, well known in political activities in connection with the women's party, has been married to Prof. Albert Levitt. The fact takes on a shade of general interest because the wife says that she has not changed her name, and does not intend to change it. She says that changing the name is only a custom.

Tipping a hat to a lady, also, is only a custom. This circumstance, however, may be irrelevent to the matter under consideration. Were Elsie Hill, wife of Prof. Levitt, to meet a man of her acquaintance, who neglected this courtesy, she might not think well of him. He could tell her that his conduct was not to be shaped by so vague and unauthoritative a thing as custom. Still the chances are that she would not be pleased.

Actresses and singers often use in their professional lives the names under which they acquired fame. The public knows them by these names, and a change might tend to break the continuity of their stage reputations. Nevertheless these women in private life use the names to which they became entitled by the ceremony of marriage. This saves embarrassment, in case there should be children, for the children would be born with a family name awaiting them.

It is convenient for a husband and wife to have a name in common. Much confusion is saved by it. Despite any wish of her own, Elsie Hill will be known as Mrs. Levitt, and in this her friends will be kinder to her than she is being to herself. A mention as being eccentric is all that her attitude seems likely to win.

COST OF WAR

In reckoning the costs of war, the necessity of meeting conditions certain to follow the war, should be counted in with the other inevitable liabilities. Had this been done there might now be fewer expressions of surprise that the ex-service men expect, and, in a manner that is persuasive rather than arbitrary, demand, that they receive a bonus.

When four million men went into the army, most of them left positions. Many of them came out of the army to find the positions not awaiting them. They had been filled by others. In instances, these others had managed to evade the draft. Among the latter were many belonging to skilled trades. These immediately found opportunity to make greater wages than ever before, nor did they hesitate to use the exigency of the demand for them, as a lever to procure exorbitant pay.

Another class became identified with the considerable faction later known as profiteers. These, in many cases, cheated the government in quality or quantity of goods furnished. Others found the private customers were easy prey, and adopted the plan of overcharging on an unprecedented scale.

The soldier came home to these changed conditions. He found that slackers of various types had become rich, while he was in garrison or trench. He learned that as he was facing hostile guns, the fellow who had taken his job had had money to burn, and had burned it. He remembered the promises made so freely as the troops marched away. He reflected that these promises had not been kept.

There does not seem any ground for blaming the soldier when he insists upon a bonus. He knows the richest country in the land can pay, and he believes that were the money needed for a different purpose, there would be less groaning about it, and no delay whatever.

In the making of a goose nature requires a lot of quills, but a man can make a goose of himself with only one quill.

The stern man isn't always behind in his business.

An epigram is anything mean that can be said in a two-line poem.

Some women are not afraid in the dark and others are afraid of the light.

Even the man who has a will of his own never objects to being mentioned in the will of another.

Privacy and Neighborliness

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador to France, made a speech the other day at a dinner given in Paris to the Marquis de Peralla, minister of Costa Rica to France, in honor of the latter gentleman's fifty years of diplomatic service in France. In his speech Mr. Herrick said:

"National privacy, like family privacy, in no sense excludes or need even diminish, public service. We may still hold fast to the old English doctrine that our house is our castle and inviolate, but that does not diminish our desire to offer a wide hospitality to our friends, or join our fellow-citizens in public places for the public good. Isolation, exclusiveness, whatever you may call it, is thus a term whose significance lies wholly in the method of its application.

"In their family affairs the people of the United States like to be let alone as much as possible; but there is no goodly undertaking set on foot by their neighbors in which they do not ask to take their share. Monsieur de Peralla instinctively felt this."

With his usual sound sense, Mr. Herrick indicates here the eventual issue and settlement, when it cools, of the hot question which is now boiling throughout the United States. That question is whether we shall with the irreconcilables, carry to its rigid conclusion the policy of America for Americans, and have nothing to do with other nations except to go out and fight with them once in a while, and to load the country with taxes between times getting ready to fight, or on the other hand whether we shall adopt some plan of getting along with our neighbors that would be cheaper and more to our natural advantage.

And the way out, in this question as in most questions, is not to be a triumph of one idea over another, but a compromise between the two. That is to say, we shall not abandon our nationality and merge into a superstate, nor shall we maintain our utter isolation between two oceans bristling with battle fields.

We shall do neither because we shall do a little of both.

We are going to keep on being the United States of America and nothing else. We are going to mind our own business and not meddle with the affairs of other people nor try to regulate them. At the same time, we are going to unite with them enough so that we can get along with them with a minimum of friction.

And the way to do this is quite simple. It is merely to extend the principle of Federation.

The central idea of Federation is that each state is independent and superior in its own concerns and yet is so allied to all the other states as to remove the necessity of being ready to fight them.

To be a good citizen does not imply that one should not maintain his proud position as a member of the Jones family.

In fact, the eventual World Government is not to be a gluey mass of one kind of people, but rather an ordered edifice made up of distinct and independent parts.

To this unity the awkward and quarrelsome world is slowly lumbering.

Square.
That is a word that has come to mean a lot.
It's a kind of geometrical regularity.
Exactness.
An even-sidedness.

* * *

So it has come to be applied to persons.
Who are square.
Presenting the same even face in all directions.
Not shifty or evasive or changeable.
Square.

* * *

It's a pretty good term.
Means a lot that you may be grateful for when applied to you.
Grateful to you.
For the philosophy or strength or courage that has earned it for you.

* * *

You are even-sided.
In all circumstances you are the same.
People know how you will react to the spiritual vision.
There is a kind of assurance about you that is comforting.

* * *

You don't topple over quickly.
In whatever position you are you have an even base.
You stand up evenly.
Are not readily shifted and changed by the capricious breeze of circumstance.
Or expediency or trickiness or anything like that.

* * *

You have corners of course.
The sharp corners of decision.
You say yes or no sharply as the corners of you.
But it is a definite and exact yes or no.
Just the corners of a square are definite and exact.

* * *

You don't roll around like a ball.
Topple like a triangle or a cone.
You are not uncertain on your base like a polyhedron.
You stand firmly and squarely.

* * *

So the term has come to be used to indicate reliability.
Frankness and candor and all of the things that mark the real man or woman.

* * *

It's a good reputation to have.
You can borrow money on it.
Because your promise to pay is good.
You can't borrow more than you should have.
But if you are square you don't want more than you should have.

* * *

You pass current like a gold coin in whatever you say or do.
If you say a thing is true you don't have to prove it.
It is taken for granted.
Because you said it.
You are not always in need of corroboration.

* * *

The merchant profits from it.
You do not hesitate to take his word for the quality of goods.
He is square.
And will make any promise or guarantee good.

* * *

The lawyer and the butcher and the baker and the artisan and the mechanic find it to be of high value.
Better than a degree or title or anything like that.
It is the passport to the confidence of clients and customers.

* * *

Square.
About the finest thing that can be said of you.
It being true, of course.

SONGS OF THE POETS

"Bonnie Wee Thing"—By Robert Burns (1759-1796)

Bonnie wee thing! cannie wee thing!
Lovely wee thing! wert thou mine,
I wad wear thee in my bosom,
Lest my jewel I should tine.
Wishfully I look, and languish
In that bonnie face o' thine;
And my heart it stounds wi' anguish,
Lest my wee thing be na mine.

Wit and grace, and love and beauty,
In ae constellation shine;
To adore thee is my duty,
Goddess o' this soul o' mine!
Bonnie wee thing, cannie wee thing,
Lovely wee thing, wert thou mine,
I wad wear thee in my bosom,
Lest my jewel I should tine.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

WHY THE FARMERS SUFFER

[Atlanta Constitution]

The farmers of the United States are suffering, says Secretary Wallace, from the worst conditions in the history of agriculture—from conditions, which, he says, "are undermining agriculture, the the base of the pyramid which represents our national life"—but why?

And he says, very truthfully, that this condition "justifies the use of the most vigorous means to cure it;" but he does not suggest the "cure."

The truth of the matter is, the condition exists because the party to which Secretary Wallace belongs has committed this country to an unscientific, incongruous, unreasonable and utterly unworkable policy of isolation from and utter disregard for the affairs and welfare of the balance of the world; and the only way under God's heaven to "cure it" is to revoke that policy!

The action of the republican senate in repudiating the Versailles treaty has cost the farming interests of the United States untold millions; it administered a blow to agriculture from which it will require years to recover, and it has levied a tax of not less than $50 on every bale of cotton that the south has produced since the senate "got even with Wilson" by forcing the defeat of the Versailles treaty.

The country is awakening to a realization of this fact—the truth of which it emphasized by this statement by the secretary of agriculture—and to the further fact that, in absolute control of every department of the government from cellar to garret, the republicans have done nothing thus far to remedy the situation by undoing the mischief they did in the repudiation of the Versailles treaty.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

The impersonal attitude is one much to be desired. It will oil the machinery of family life. It will greatly endear us to friends and acquaintances. What's the use of always noticing everything that happens and making personal comments on it? It's likely to be embarrassing and at times maddening.

Just because we note that an associate shows the signs of a sleepless night it doesn't show friendship to tell him so. If we don't happen to enjoy the subject under discussion at the family breakfast table it is not likely to add to the joy of the occasion if we bluntly say so, adding our reasons for differing and adding for good measure a word of complaint or sarcasm.

Letting each other alone is a lesson that needs to be learned by some of us. Learning that every time a careless comment is made that we were not singled out as its butt is another. We've all made the acquaintance, and a sorry one it is, of the person who is always looking for a cause of action, who always stands ready to believe herself or himself the inspiration of any chance word of disapproval.

The impersonal attitude is a shield and a bulwark of defense. So many shafts slip by leaving us unharmed if we but cultivate it. So many little slights cause the minimum of discomfort. So many battles of others can we pass by without participation.

Being impersonal does not mean being hardhearted. It means being wise.

FOREIGN INFLUENCE IN AMERICA

[Detroit Free Press]

Principal Miller of northern high school recently told an audience that foreign-born pupils and the children of foreign-born parents are making the best showing in the public schools and that there is evidence that they will be running the country when they grow up.

This may be, but the history of the country hardly supports the prediction. Leaving out Alexander Hamilton and Albert Gallatin, who were not born in the United States, but were in the country before the revolution, the average American will have difficulty in thinking of any foreign born statesman who has achieved prominence in American affairs except Carl Schurz and Franklin K. Lane. The present chairman of the senate judiciary committee, Knute Nelson, falls into that class and there are others but they are not common. In the mass the foreign born element has exercised a large influence in American affairs. They have made great inroads, for instance, on the Puritan Sunday, but when the fight was started for a little old-fashioned legislated morality it was not the foreign born element that put over the prohibition amendment.

However, Principal Miller's news is welcome. The pupils of whom he speaks will certainly have a share in the government of the United States and their present diligence is evidence that their share of the work will be well done. They will have their chance to run the country if they can, and if the country lives up to its ideals it will prove so good for their descendants that within a generation or so they will be as much American as any descendant of John Smith and Pocohontas.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The statement that there is no new thing under the sun, might as well be revised. It has been disproved a thousand times. Its element of veracity lies in the fact that matter exists, and the quantity of it is not subject to change. When the form is changed into something never before beheld by the eye of man, or conceived by human senses, then there is something new under the sun.

Recently a flying machine swooped too low over a California pasture, and striking a horse, injured the animal so that it had to be killed. That was new. The possibility may have been a part of the original creative process. The time that Solomon was living in riotous splendor did not know the flying machine. There wes none to know, although the principle was illustrated by the birds. The stock in Solomon's pasture never had to dodge the flying machine. The horse in a California pasture had to dodge one. There was something new under the sun that instant.

With the dawning of mortal intelligence came the beginning of all possibilities of achievement. As each of these possibilities has taken form, there has been something new under the sun.

Of course every modern invention is followed by the statement that the appliance had been in use among the ancients. If this statement were true, which by the way, it is not, still would the greater truth that there is something new under the sun, stand unscathed and unshaken, as ever the truth must stand. If, for instance, the ancients had the telephone, at the time they set it to operating, it must have been new.

All of which shows how a train of thought may be started by the carelessness of an aviator taking a cross country spin.

The authorities of Spokane are devising steps to shield the ankles of jurors from public view. The fact may be taken for granted that feminine ankles are under consideration. There never, so far as is of available record, has been any undue straining of the neck to glimpse the masculine ankle.

Of course the course taken at Spokane is in perfect accord with the properties. Otherwise it would not have been taken in that place, which as proved by the census, has the highest average intelligense among all the cities of the land.

At the same time, the end of a juror which terminates below the skirts, considered in relation to the administration of justice, is far less important than the end above the chin.

Russia is compiling claims against various nations, including the United States.

If Americans are to be stung for the board of Bill Haywood, no matter. They would have to have borne this expense had he ermained in their midst.

Russia as now constituted could not present a claim against this country that would not be manifestly preposterous. However large any such claim might be, a counter claim as penalty for having inspired the parlor bolshevist, could be devised to more than cover it.

Human curiosity causes some queer conduct For example, there is the Long Beach woman whose garden had been sprayed with oil, escaped from a boisterous well. She wondered if the oil would burn. She touched a match to it. It burned.

The lady's curiosity was more than satisfied, but only by great good luck was a large area saved from destruction by fire.

The United States, for the present at least, declines to accept an invitation to the economic conference at Genoa. It does not turn the affair down coldly, or even finally.

Probably Uncle Sam is thinking a little about the strange folk that he would be likely to meet there. For instance, Americans and bolshevists do not live in the same intellectual world, and having no thoughts in common, would be likely to fail to understand each other, which would be embarrassing.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Odd, isn't it, how some trifles stick in one's memory, when things that are really worth while march through and out?

One passing tableau came to me today. It is all of thirty years since I saw it, I think. Even then it was of no consequence. It is true that in our little Mid-Western town we did not often see men wearing frock coats and high silk hats. Yet we did see such visions now and then. The picture is as brilliant in my memory today as it was before my admiring eyes then.

One reason, perhaps, is that he was the most brilliant man of his profession at the time. His name appeared in the New York papers. We heard of him meeting Presidents and senators and great bankers on terms of social equality. His judgment was final in matters in which he was interested. No doubt it was because of these things that I remember how he looked as he strolled down our Main street that brilliant June morning, an adoring girl clinging to his arm.

As years went on one heard less of Frank Gordon. He was always a salaried man. It never seemed worth while to him to establish a business of his own, though he must have had numberless chances. Later on I learned to know him for a thoroughly selfish person. No doubt that was why he did not marry. A wife must have seemed a clog to the handsome youngster. He religiously spent all he made on himself, with the exception of the few dollars he sent his father from time to time. The father worshipped him. I can see now that his son's charity was inspired by selfishness. He expanded in the glow of his father's adoration. Beside, it would never do for the world to know that Frank Gordon's father suffered for the necessities of life.

He was square enough, then, and decent enough. But as time went on he lost his grip. He was handsome to the last and selfish to the last. His talents were of the highest order but his selfishness was all embracing and consistent. He never thought of any one but himself.

Last week he died in a lodging house. His body was taken to the city morgue.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store. —Adv.

WOLFORD'S DOGS MAKE BIG HIT

Wolford's dog and monkey circus is the featured attraction on the Meiklejohn and Dunn vaudeville road show at the T. D. & L theater today and tomorrow. There are twelve of these little terriers on the stage; they go through their act with very little assistance from their trainer. The monkeys in this act are also certain to amuse all the children from six to sixty with their antics.

Four girls that look as though they might have stepped from a drawing room have a very beautiful act in which they sing and whistle in a most pleasing style. The Becker Quartet is one of the best known on the coast.

That ever amusing funster, Harry Goodrun, promises a lot of tricks that will mystify and the chatter which accompanies his stunts is sure to cause miles of smiles.

There are many ventriloquists on the stage today. Harold Crenyon is among the best. He has complete control of his voice and sings and talks without moving his lips preceptibly while manipulating the dolls at the same time.

FRIDAY EVE. DANCING CLASS

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Advt.

CLUB ADOPTED CODE REVISIONS

Poetry and Music Were Given Attention at Last Meeting

The principal business at the meeting of the Women's Twentieth Century club on Thursday afternoon was the adoption of a revision of the constitution and by-laws, which had been carefully prepared by a committee headed by the club parliamentarian, Mrs. W. E. Bruce.

The program of the day was devoted to poetry and music. Mrs. A. C. Fisk, chairman of literature, was in charge. With alternating poetic and musical numbers, a most delightful afternoon was enjoyed. Mrs. C. W Young, always an enthusiast on poetry, before introducing the subject, spoke in complimentary terms of the young matron of today who, with little children around her knees, responds to calls for club and church duties and keeps her mind bright with current events. This applied especially to her assistants on this occasion. The poets of today, she said, have struck a high, fine note never before reached. There rings through every poem a tone of high thought and purpose. Selecting Robert service for brief mention, she read his verses on "The Mother," and also referred appreciatively to the work of James W. Foley.

Mrs. P. H. Ducker sketched the life of John McGroarty and read "The Post of Heart's Desire." Alfred Joyce Kilmer's life and early death on the battlefield in France was touched upon by Mrs. Harry Swanson, and she read his beautiful little eulogy on "Trees," and "The Peacemaker." James J. Montague wts the poet chosen by Mrs. Sherrill B. Osborne. As he married one of her cousins, and the wedding was at her mother's home, she was able to give little intimate details of his life and work. By her reading of "The Evening Suit" and other selections the writer's mingled humor and tenderness were revealed.

Mrs. C. E. Arbogast talked about Edgar A. Guest and recited several of his poems.

Members of the Thursday Morning Music club, who are highly trained musicians, most of them instructors, rendered the following choice program:

Piano solo, "Kameunoi Ostrow" (Rubenstein), Ruth Thompson.

Soprano solo, "By the Waters of Minnetonka" (Lisuraine), Ethel M. Congdon, with violin obligato by Esther Gleiss, accompanied on the piano by her sister.

Vocal duet, "Where My Caravan Has Rested" (Lohr), Alice Horton Mills and H. Leora Johnston.

Violin solo, "Meditation," from the opera "Thais," Esther Gleiss.

Contralto solo, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" (Saint-Saens), Dorothy Eleanor Ledden.

Soprano solo, "Sing, Smile, Slumber" (Gounod), Alice Horton Mills with violin obligato by Miss Gleiss.

Piano trio, "Sounds from the Ballroom" (Gillet), Gertrude Rose, Constance Braasch and Ruth Thompson.

Mrs. Braasch acted as accompanist on the piano for the soloists.

CHRISTINA BRADBURY

On Sunday morning, January 22, a woman of strong personality and high mental attainments, ripe in years, passed away in her sleep at the home of her son, P. W. Stoddard, of 159 North Highland avenue. Mrs. Christina M. Bradbury was born in Putney, Vt., in 1639. She lived for years in Minnesota, and came to Eagle Rock with her son seven years ago. All her life she was the possessor of robust health, and for the past 20 years was a Christian Science practitioner. The funeral services were at the Little Church of the Flowers, in Glendale, Tuesday afternoon and were conducted by the Christin Science society.

MONTHLY DANCE

Another of the enjoyable dances given monthly by the Women's Twentieth Century club will take place Saturday night in the clubhouse. There will be exceptionally fine music, the orchestra of the Maryland hotel in Pasadena having been secured. Mrs. C. I. Williams is the hostess.

ELECT OFFICERS

Theodore C. Koethen post No. 227 of the American Legion, at the last meeting elected and installed the following officers for 1922: Commander, Elmer M. Bergsvik; first vice commander, John Duffy; second vice commander, Morris Bell; adjutant, H. J. Jalkman; sergeant-at-arms, Winston Squire.

BIG QUESTION IN MIRACLE PICTURE

How long can a young woman exist in New York on $13.00? This is one of several interesting questions that arise in Elsine Hammerstein's latest picture, "The Miracle of Manhattan," at the Glendale theatre today.

Miss Hammerstein is excellently cast as Evelyn Whitney, a young society debutante, who thinks it would be an easy matter for a girl to "get by." That is, she thinks so until she tries it. Then her opinions suffer a radical change. But a change of opinion is not the only inconvenience she suffers. She is suddenly caught in a mesh of circumstances that cause her much mental and physical anguish.

After several harrowing experiences which include an attempt upon her life by a jealous woman, she settles down to a new routine of life, no longer the gilded butterfly of society, but a woman who has drank deeply from the cup of life.

FUND OF $2000 IS GIVEN BOY SCOUTS

other Eagle scouts of the troop—C. G. Farrow, Arthur Wetton, Clifford Walcott, Dallas Kalbaugh, Kenneth Miles and David Roberts, which greatly interested the company.

Two fine violin numbers were given by John Marquardt with Mr. Girard at the piano and a vocal duet "Calm as the Night" by Mr. Girard and Mayor Robinson.

A wonderfully fine talk on the underlying principles of the Boy Scout movement, its effect in anchoring the boy to right ideals and to healthy development physical, mental and moral, was then made by E. B. DeGroot, scout executive of the Los Angeles council.

Charles E. Guthrie of Glendale, who is one of the staunch and practical supporters of scouting, made the last and one of the best talks of the evening, concluding with a strong appeal for the financial support of the council by subscriptions to the $10 shares it is offering in the boy scout fund.

A roll call of organizations and individual guests following in which many pledges were reported, including subscriptions for ten shares each from A. A. Barton, Knights of Columbus, Elks' lodge, Roy Kent, Charles R. Guthrie, Jas. A. Newton, George Bentley and A. T. Cowan. Five shares each were subscribed by Charles Toll, A. R. Eastman, Charles Ingledue, C. C. Cooper, R. L. Mcourt, H. S. Webb, Chamber of Commerce, and Thomas D. Watson. J. G. Huntley, 7 shares; Nathan Rigdon, 3 shares; W. Eattles, 2; Mr. Lutz, 2; Citizens' Building Co., 3; Credit Men's Association, 3; George B. Karr, 4; Knights Templar, 3; Business and Professional Women's Club, 2; Owen Emery, 1; Dr. Smith, 1; E. E. Harwood, 1; A. H. Lapham, 1; Samuel Davis, 1; R. M. Taylor, 1; Dwight Stephenson, 1.

Robert L. Taylor as the first assistant scout master of the Tropico troop, said to be the oldest troop in California, was called upon and added his testimony to the value of scout training, recalling the fact that Hrold Benner, the present scout executive, had been a member of that troop, also Dwight Stephenson and Owen Emery.

The last entertainer was Harry A. James, whose amusing stories illustrative of the Englishman's inability to understand American humor, greatly pleased the audience and so stimulated subscriptions that he was recalled and asked to give his original monologue on a baseball game.

A practical talk was made by a scout enthusiast of Burbank, Mr. Kline, who promised that his city would go over the top in financial support of the council. A booster meeting will be held in that city in the near future at which Mayor Robinson and Harry Girard of this city have been invited to sing, and scout officials expect it to bring to the fund several thousands in subscriptions.

Mr. Kline stated that the city of Burbank owns 118 acres in a beautiful canyon in the foothills above that city and has offered the council as much ground as it needs for use as a scout camp. He is sure a very beautiful one, ideal in location, can be developed there for the use of scouts of Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank, and his announcement was greeted with applause.

CEMETERY FENCE IS AGAINST LAW

Judge Lowe Calls Attention to Ordinance Covering Case

The plan to extend Forest Lawn cemetery over the line and into the city of Glendale may fail completely, was indicated by Police Judge F. H. Lowe. The very fence erected by the company around their property in Glendale may be the cause of the failure to extend into this city.

According to Judge Lowe, ordinance 211 prohibits erecting a wire fence, a barbed wire fence or a fence constructed in part of wire within five feet of a public sidewalk. The fence erected by the Forest Lawn Cemetery company is only four inches from the sidewalk. The penalty for violation of the ordinance which is termed a misdemeanor, is a fine of not more than $30 or 30 days in the county jail, or both.

The city has not decided what action to take, but it was indicated that in the event of anyone signing a complaint against the company for violating this ordinance, it will be carried through.

According to Judge Lowe, this ordinance has been tested in the local courts and found valid inas much as judgment was returned against the offenders. It is indicated that in the event of a fight against the Forest Lawn cemetery it is more than a possibility that the case will be carried into a higher court.

FINE VAUDEVILLE OFFERING TODAY

Five acts of distinct diversity will be included on the new vaudeville bill at the Glendale theatre today. Samson and Paulette, who style themselves "The Baritone and The Dancer" have a delightful offering and demonstrate that they can sing and dance with equal facility. The Cooke Sisters will present a singing, dancing and pianologue of plasing quality. They have plenty of personality and their ability has won them high praise. Bill Pruitt, "The Cowboy Minstrel" will sing and tell some stories that are different. Pruitt is an unique entertainer and his offering is unusual. Starr and Starr are an eccentric comedy duo who promise plenty of laughs.

Wright and Vivian, "acrobatic jugglers" will inject a few thrills into the show as well as a few laughs. Their feats are both sensational and novel.

CLOSED CAR DAYS HERE FOR GOOD

The day of the closed car is here, and its popularity is fast increasing, according to E. E. Sawyer of the Sunset Motor company, dealers for the Dort and Paige cars at 308 East Colorado street. The difference in price between the closed model and the open car is waneing, says Sawyer. The manufacturers are leaving no stones unturned to reduce costs on closed car production by increasing the schedule of closed cars to be turned ont.

Heretofore the number of closed cars as compared to open models has been very small, and the small production has kept costs up. The steady demand for more comfort, the gradual improvement in design and lowering of weight, all tend to lower costs of production, until today the motorist finds himself face to face with the question, "Which car shall I buy?" The Dort of today presents both closed and open models, with less than $200 difference in price, and when the motorist thinks of all the added comfort that he obtains for the slightly greater initial outlay, he will most likely select the closed model.

LATE MATERIALS FOR AUTO TOPS

The Glendale De Luxe Auto Top company, 120 South Maryland avenue, has received a large line of the very latest materials for tops and upholstering purposes, samples of which are now being shown by this concern.

This company manufactures the very finest of California and other tops, and does all kinds of seat covering and upholstering. H. Balestier and H. Du Bois, managers of this establishment, say that business is recovering in grand style from the holiday depression.

The Pajaro Valley railroad, operating between Salinas and Spreckles, is the first steam road in California to go into automobile stage business to the extend of paralleling its rails with automobiles on highways. The company carries passengers, baggage and express at the same rates charged on the trains.

NEW TRACT PUT ON MARKET SUNDAY

Mountain Heights Will Be Presented for Investors

The opening of Mountain Heights tract, one of the finest subdivisions in the northeast section for a long time, will be held tomorrow. The realty firm of Kelly & Van Arsdol, 106 West Colorado street, has been appointed agent for this tract. This firm believes that on account of the low figure of the lots on this tract have been placed, the entire subdivision, consisting of fifty-four lots, should be sold out within a week or ten days.

The Mountain Heights tract is located on Thompson and Sixth streets, which is also known as Glenwood road, and is only one block from the Burbank car line on a gradual slope. The lots in this tract command a wonderful view of the mountains to the north and of the entire San Fernando valley, which makes it one of the best pieces of residential real estate in that section of the country, which means the entire San Fernando valley. The proximity to the car line is an attractive feature.

The price of the lots in this tract will be $596, which may be paid $100 down and $15 per month. This tract has the finest kind of soil and the price of the lots include water, gas and electricity.

COURT MOTOR CO. TAKES NEW SITE

The W. H. Court Motor company is today taking possession of a portion of the storeroom of George T. Smith, 228 South Brand boulevard. W. H. Court, proprietor of this new establishment, will take personal charge of the distribution of the Cadillac automobile in Glendale. He has lived in Los Angeles for several years, where he has been prominent in automobile circles.

In coming to Glendale Mr. Court believes there is demand for cars of the Cadillac class in Glendale. He has been an admirer of Glendale for a long time and feels right at home as a "Glendalite."

BUILDING LINES ARE ALL BUSY

"If things along the building line are slowing up in Glendale we are not aware of this fact," said Jack C. Satow, the plumber, located on South San Fernando road. "We are busier right now than we have been for months. To us this would indicate that the people of Glendale, and especially those in the southern part of the city, realize that Glendale is one of the safest places in the world in which to make building investments."

Hermoine (ecstatically gazing at her first alimony check)—"I don't see why every woman doesn't get married."

PARTNERS

Life and I, we live together—I'm in him and he in me,
And we can't escape each other, as you ve plainly see.
I can't go along without him, he'll be with me the end.
And we talk of things together as a friend do with a friend.
He is very frank and honest and his truths a clear and plain,
And he says each blessed morning when he wak me up again:
"Here am I and here is Work and here are Yc and here's the Day—
And what shall we four do with us? It's up you to say!"

Yes, that's just the way he says it, when the night and sleep are throug
And I hear him at my waking say: "Good morning—how are you?"
I have not the slightest notion where he goes to spend the night,
But he's always there to greet me at the early morning light.
He is there just at my waking without any pause or wait,
And I'm sure that I should miss him if he happened to be late.
And he says: "I'm here and You are—so is Work and so 's the Day.
So what shall we four do with us? It's up to you to say!"

One time I used to ask him what he might make me to be,
And with much surprise he answered: "Just what you may make of n
For I'm here to do your bidding and to serve you as you will,
It's for you to say each minute if I serve you well or ill."
Yes, that's just the way he said it, and the truth of it was plain,
And he brings me every morning that same message once again:
"Here am I and here are You and here is Work and here's the Day,
So what shall we four do with us? It's up to you to say!"

TENNESSEE MOON COMPOSER HERE

Another one of Glendale's famous musicians is Billy Hill, composer of the popular song, "Sleepy Head." Mr. Hill who lives at 1013 South Mariposa street, has been on the coast for about four years, coming from Massachusetts, and it was while visiting at the Brunswick Shop at 146 South Brand that he received his inspiration for "Tennessee Moon", his latest piece. The song was introduced in San Francisco by Wallace, who was formerly organist at the California theatre in Los Angeles. "Tennessee Moon" was published in San Francisco by the Sherman-Clay Company, publishers of popular music and the Glendale Brunswick shop is the first music house to carry any copies of this beautiful song.

SYCAMORE CANYON BOULEVARD WORK STARTS SOON

Proper Procedure Has Been Complied With, Officials Say

According to city officials, work under the contract for the improvement of Sycamore Canyon Boulevard will start next week. The boulevard extended at the time negotiations were begun to 381 feet south of Windsor Road. Deeds have now been secured from Dr. Green and from Spencer Robinson which will enable the board to continue the opening to Acacia. An effort is now being made to procure a right of way for Acacia east to Adam in a curve to join this boulevard.

The city has already instituted condemnation proceedings for a new street which will run from Adams to Glendale Avenue, midway between Palmer and Acacia. A thoroughfare to Brand will be secured by way of Park Avenue.

There are about 600 feet between Acacia and Palmer and it is felt that a new street is needed there. The proceedings are almost to the point of calling for bids.

POSTMASTER IS GETTING PRAISE

D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster, received the following letter complimenting him on the service rendered the public since he has taken over the office. The letter was written in answer to several published complaints regarding the service since Glendale has had an independent postoffice:

"I see in the News a short time ago that you have some complaints in regard to mail matters. I am new in Glendale, coming here during the past year, but I have carefully noted your mail system. I wish to say that we have received good service and most courteous treatment both by carrier and at the office windows. Having personally been in public life for many years I am fully aware it is easy to receive criticisms. So I thought I would be one to say a word of approval when it seemed to me deserved both by carriers and office.

"Yours very truly,
"THOMAS MARSHALL."

BARBARISM JAZZ, SAYS JUDGE

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Jazz music is barbarism revived, Arnold Heap declared today in handing down a decision in morals court fining Julia Rector, a cabaret dancer, $200 for presenting an improper performance. The case which attracted nation-wide attention, involved the notorious Entertainers Cafe of Chicago, where Miss Rector was employed as a performer.

WOMEN INVITE ALL INSPECT THEIR CLUB ROOMS

Tuesday Afternoon Evening, January 31, Is Date Set

For years Glendale has needed a place where its business women could go and relax in their intervals of leisure. The need has now been met, and the Business and Professional Women's Club is inviting the public to visit the cosy apartment in the building at 209½ South Brand boulevard, which it has furnished for club headquarters. This informal reception will be held Tuesday afternoon and evening, January 31.

Guests will find there a rest room for the tired, a neat little dining room where light lunches are served at low cost, and all the comforts which such a place should have. All this would not have been possible but for the splendid cooperation of the business and professional men of Glendale.

The house committee is composed of Mrs. F. E. Walton, Mrs. E. P. Beck, Miss Nellie Warner, Mrs. E. Williams and Dr. Caroline Payne Jackman, who report that the warm hearted response they met when they explained the use to which the furnishings would be put for which they were negotiating, made their work a pleasure. Nothing was solicited, but in every case the merchant called upon proved their interest by volunteering to supply the article wanted at cost price.

The committee hopes that all these generous promoters of the enterprise will come and view the results of their co-operation and give members an opportunity to express their appreciation of such kindness.

The club is no less grateful for many courtesies received from the Chamber of Commerce and the High School Board, individually and collectively. To the Dolberg Studio it is indebted for a fine photographic record of its membership.

Others to whom the house committee feels that thanks are due are: Glendale Hardware Company, Page Furniture Company, Glendale Furniture Company, Glen Porter Furniture Company, Russell Furniture Company, Trice Furniture Company, H. S. Webb Company, Williams Dry Goods Company, Fisher's Variety Show, Coker & Taylor, Morgan Transfer Company, L. G. Scovern Company, W. W. Lorrimer Grocery, Loomis-Shuck Music Company, Glendale Music Company, and Glendale Commercial School.

DOCTORS GIVE TO RECREATION FUND

Add $25 To Get Equipment For Thornycroft Disabled Men

Dr. E. F. Tholen, one of Glendale's residents, but who is a specialist in Los Angeles, gave a most interesting lecture before the Glendale Physicians' Club last evening. The meeting was well attended and an interesting discussion followed. As a result of this meeting the following letter was sent to Dr. Wm. C. Mabry, who is interesting himself regarding the disabled soldiers in Thornycroft:

"At the regular meeting of the Glendale Physicians' Club held last evening, it was moved by Dr. Henry C. Harrower, and seconded by Dr. A. M. Duncan, that the sum of $25.00 be sent to you on behalf of the funds to be collected for the equipment and betterment of the recreation hall recently built for the invalid service men at Thornycroft. I am glad indeed to enclose this check herewith and trust that you may have already received sufficient other donations to make up the desired amount."

"FOREVER" IS BIG PICTURE OF YEAR

"Peter Ibbetson," from which "Forever" was adapted, is one of the great literary and dramatic lights of the English language. It is the love story between Mary, Duchess of Towers and Peter Ibbetson that affords the ineffable charm of George du Maurier's romance. It is to be the attraction at the T. D. & L. theater Sunday and Monday.

The book, by the author of "Trilby" has outstripped that novel in popularity. The play, produced in London, Chicago and New York, became one of the great classics of the stage.

In "Peter Ibbetson," du Maurier, the great author, artist, humorist and editor of "Punch," has revealed some of his own life, and the Duchess of Towers is drawn from his eldest daughter.

The picture version, "Forever," with the two great stars, the wonderful cast and the noted director, has been acclaimed as superior to the stage version. It is one of the great treats of the new season.

By special request, Geo. Olsene, organist, will render "The Storm." Special comedy, scenic and Kinograms, finest out. A most delightful program of the unusual T. D. & L. high standard.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Haines of 212 Lomita avenue, will motor to Long Beach and Covina on Monday, staying over night with friends. The trip is one of business.

GLENDALE KNOWN ALL OVER NATION

That Glendale has an efficient city government and through this city government is becoming advertised even in the south and east was indicated by a letter received by City Manager Reeves and turned over to the health department for action.

The letter was from City Manager Clarence E. Ridley of Bluefield, West Virginia., and said that he had heard of Glendale and the efficient and sanitary methods used by the city in the disposal of garbage, rubbish and ashes. A questionnaire regarding the methods used by the city was inclosed for the health officer to fill out and return.

Mr. Ridley stated that Bluefield hopes to install a municipal system of garbage collection and disposal and that he wants the Glendale system outlined.

Mr. Hollenbeck, sanitary inspector, filled out the questionnaire and in addition mailed to Mr. Ridley copies of the ordinance governing the collection and disposal of garbage.
